> Exercises Marking Anniversary Will Start With Procession Thursday.

The College of the City of New York will celebrate the seventy-fifth anni-Since 1847 it has grown from the di-rather than to a college.

As an institution intended to edu cate without cost to them as many young men of the city as can meet the requirements for entrance, it has en abled many who would otherwise have been forced to forego higher education to enroll in its courses. It numbers among its alumni some of the most distinguished citizens of New York and of the country.

Elsie Steuer and William McHenry, nion Hill High School, Town of Union,

In September, 1907, the college moved from the buildings at Twenty-third street and Lexington avenue, which it from the buildings at Twenty-third street and Lexington avenue, which it had occupied from its foundation, to the five new buildings on Washington Heights, between 138th and 140th streets. In 1913-1915 the Lewisohn Stadium, the gift of Adolph Lewisohn was erected. The old building accommodates some of the work of the school of business and civic administration.

The organization of the college now includes the College of Liberal Arts and Science, the School of Technology, the School of Business and Civic Administration and the School of Education. Both day and evening sessions are held, and an eight weeks' summer session. The college conducts, in addition, a preparatory high school.

Among its prominent alumni are Isaac Seligman, '53, the oldest living graduate; Everett P. Wheeler '56; Ira Remsen, '65, president emeritus of Johns Hopkins; Dr. Robert Abbe, '70; John Bach McMaster, '72; Bernard M. Baruch, '89; Arthur Guiterman, '91; James K. Hackett, '91; Louis K. Anspacher, '97; Upton Sinclair, '97, and Gen. George W. Goethals, '77.

TAKES HARBOR TRIP Thompson and Cabinet Later

CHICAGO'S MAYOR

at Tea. Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago and his cabinet, who are here to study subways, were met in the Hotel Pennsylvania by Mayor Hylan and his party just before noon. The two Mayors, accompanied by a fleet of automobiles with the usual motos traffic policemen, went to the Whitehall Club in Battery place, where an informal luncheon was served.

The party then boarded the steamship Correction at Pier A for a trip around the harbor. Fire Commissioner Thomas J. Drennan, who was one of the party, had the fireboat John Purroy Mitchel give an exhibition of her water throwing. Mayor Thompson closely watched the exhibition.

"She is certainly a wonderful fire fishting machine," said the Chicago Mayor. "She looks to me like the last word in drowning out a blaze on the water front. No wonder you are proud. Mr. Mayor, and also you, Commissioner Drennan."

New Haven, May 6.—How relief work among central European students is going on under the direction of the European Student Relief, aided by American universities, is shown by E. M. McKee of the Yale graduate department, who recently returned from a trip through central Europe. Mr. McKee writes:

"The following spheres of activity are included in the Relief's work; housing," which representatives room many colleges and universities will take part. Speeches will be made by Jules J. Juster Mayor Thompserand, French Ambassador to the United States; Dr. John H. Finley, who was president of the college from 1903 to 1913; Chancellor Brown of New York University, President Sidney Edward Mezes, Thomas W. Churchill, president of the board of trustees; Judge Robert F. Wagner, 198, president of the Alumnin Association, and Charles B. Alexander for the State Board of Regents. Genge W. Goethels, '77, and Bernard M. Baruch, '89, may also speak.

Lee Kohns, '84, of the board of trustees, which are to be held in the great hall of the main building on Washington Heights, Prayers will be said by three clersymen—Bishop Thomas F. Gallor, president of the national council of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Schulman of Temple Beth-El and the Rev. John J. Wynne, S. J.

In the afternoon on exhibition drill, by the students' training corps, under Col. Samuel B. Arnold, U. S. A., retired, is scheduled, besides a ball game between faculty and student teams.
